

I'm not really sure how I feel about this... but I thought maybe a before/after resume thingy might be a good idea? Feel free to not include if it doesn't fit within my branding style.

How to use on website (simple + effective)

On the page:

This sample resume demonstrates how I refine real-world content for clarity, structure, and professionalism while preserving the original voice and experience.

Below that:

- Button 1: Download sample resume
- Button 2 (optional): View before & after examples

This way:

- The document sells your work quietly
- The page explains your value
- Nothing feels overworked or salesy

You've now got:

-  A clean sample
-  A side-by-side before/after
-  An annotated version (if you ever want it)
